Corporate Procurement

The Flowers Counsel Group is a leading provider of procurement legal services to Global 500 and Fortune 500 clients, small businesses and the nation's largest academic and non-profit institutions. The firm advises public and private clients on major strategic purchases across a variety of product and service categories. Our procurement expertise enables our clients to achieve a competitive advantage by focusing on cost savings and contractual terms to minimize supply chain risks and ensure performance by critical suppliers.

While our procurement expertise is very broad and expansive, the firm's procurement practice is comprised of the following three areas:

Services Procurement Group

Ranging from the simple consulting agreements to sophisticated engineering agreements, our services procurement practice includes affinity and brand agreements, contractor agreements, consulting agreements, form agreements, master services agreements, outsourced agreements, request for proposals (RFPs), and general service agreements.

Technology Procurement Group

The firm recognizes the importance of specialized technology procurement services and our technology procurement practice is designed to meet our clients' growing need to procure complicated, high-end technology services and goods. Our technology procurement legal services include development agreements, web portal agreements, SaaS agreements, form agreements, joint venture agreements, intellectual property outsourcing agreements, non-disclosure agreements, and license agreements.

Materials, Products & Goods Procurement Group (MPGG)

Our MPGG procurement practice assists clients in acquiring key materials, products and goods required for integration in their supply chain. Our MPGG procurement legal services include bid packages, contract negotiations and settlements, material acquisitions agreements, letters of intent, master services agreements, product agreements, purchase orders, statements of work and terms and conditions review.
